DETAILED ACTION

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on April 28, 2008 has been entered.
2. Claims 25-41 are pending in this application.

Information Disclosure Statement

3. The information disclosure statement (IDS) submitted on May 2, 2008 was filed in compliance with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97. Accordingly, the information disclosure statement is being considered by the examiner.

Response to Arguments/Amendment

4. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 25-41 have been fully considered but are moot in view of new grounds of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

5. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

6. Claims 25-31 and 37-41 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

Claims 25-31 discuss methods, however, based on Supreme Court precedent and recent Federal Circuit decisions, the Office's guidance to examiners is that a § 101 process must (1) be tied to another statutory class, such as a particular apparatus, or (2) transform underlying subject matter, such as an article or materials, into a different state or thing. If neither of these requirements is met by the claim, the method is not a patent eligible process under § 101 and should be rejected as being directed to non-statutory subject matter. See Diamond v. Diehr, 450 U.S. 175, 184 (1981); Parker v. Flook, 437 U.S. 584, 588 n. 9 (1978); Gottschalk v. Benson, 409 U.S. 63, 70-71 (1972); Cochrane v. Deener, 94 U.S. 780,787-88 (1876). In claims 25-31, the applicant claims a method for providing automated coaching for a financial modeling, but does not tie the method to any other statutory subject matter, such as a computer platform, to perform the steps detailed in claims 25-31. Therefore, claims 25-31 are non-statutory.

Claims 37-41 recite "a computer program", are non-statutory, because they are directed solely to Functional Descriptive Material Per Se.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claims 32-36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wallman, U.S. Patent No. 6,601,044.

Regarding to claims 32-36, Wallman discloses a system comprising: a database for receiving financial data, a processing unit for processing financial data, and a user interface for outputting to the user-investor (column 28, lines 10-40).

Examiner submits that the claimed invention recites an intended use, although Wallman fails to discuss the intended use recited in the claimed invention, Wallman's computer system is capable of performing the intended use recited in the claimed invention. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one with ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Wallman's to include the intended use features recited in the claimed invention for the purpose of providing automated coaching for a financial modeling and counseling in a specific way.

"The recitation of a new intended use for an old product does not make a claim to that old product patentable." In re Schreiber, 44 USPQ2d 1429 (Fed. Cir. 1997).

Conclusion

9. Claims 25-41 are rejected.
